Red Cross Needs Money For Special Disaster Fund

The Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross has announced that to date they are in receipt of $185 towards the special disaster fund goal of $300.

According to National Red Cross officials, disasters have occurred so frequently and have been so devastating in recent months on a national basis that the American Red Cross faces a serious financial situation.

The Mississippi River floods, nationally considered to be the worst floods in 200 years, have made it necessary for continuous emergency assistance to flood victims for three months. These floods plus other serious disasters in the past six weeks in 22 states have found the organization committing two million dollars in disaster expenditures. The result has been the depletion of Red Cross disaster relief funds and the imperative need to launch a special disaster fund appeal.

Mrs. L. L. Kergosien, executive secretary, has advised that a fund has been set up at the Gulf National Bank. Donations may be sent in care of the American Red Cross, P. O. Box 149, Bay St. Louis, Miss. 39520. Donors are asked to make a nation on the check designating it for the Mississippi Disaster Flood Fund.

Joseph Bernhardt, newly elected disaster chairman, will conduct the next regular monthly meeting to be held June 12 at the Hancock County Board of Supervisors meeting room in the Courthouse on Main Street Bay St. Louis. All members are urged to attend.

Weekend Accidents Claim Two Lives

Two Hancock County men died in separate accidents over the weekend. Raoul L. Tellard, 81, was pronounced dead on arrival at Hancock General Hospital Saturday following a two-car accident at the intersection of Carroll Ave. and Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis.

According to the Mississippi Highway Patrol report, Tellard was attempting to cross the highway when his vehicle collided with a car driven by John D. Cannette, 28, of Tallahassee, Fla. Although Cannette was not injured in the accident, both cars were demolished.

Stanley Joseph Cameron, 31, of Dedeaux Community, was struck and killed early Sunday morning by a pickup truck, while attempting to cross Dedeaux Road. Driver of the truck was listed as Mary Jordan of Piquette.

According to Hancock County Sheriff's deputies, Cameron was hurled 70 ft. after being hit by the truck. No charges have been filed in either accident.

Company Plans Appeal

Mississippi Power Company stated Tuesday that it anticipates appealing to the Mississippi Supreme Court a decision by the Chancery Court of Hinds County affirming a Mississippi Public Service Commission order denying the company's request for a 4.2 percent increase in retail rates.

The proposed new rate schedules were originally filed with the Mississippi Public Service Commission on May 31, 1972. The Commission suspended the proposed rates, and as permitted by law, the company placed them into effect on July 1, 1972, under bond and subject to refund with interest. After lengthy hearings, the Public Service Commission denied the rate adjustment on November 21, 1972, and Mississippi Power Company appealed the matter to the Chancery Court. The new rate schedules would continue in effect, under bond and subject to refund, during the appeal to the Supreme Court.

Engineer Approves Sewerage Payment

Work is now progressing satisfactorily on the Waveland sewer system installation, Project Engineer Clarence Evans told the Waveland city council Tuesday night and recommended a $125,000 payment to the contractor. After hearing reports from job superintendents on various aspects of the project, the council accepted a motion for payment.

In a related matter, Evans submitted an ordinance covering residential sewer line tie-ins for council consideration. A number of property owners have approached him on criteria for hook-up to the main system, Evans related, and he felt a city ordinance specifying regulations was in order. Council members agreed to study the ordinance for action at the next council meeting.

Waveland resident James DeBlanc asked the council for city support in rebuilding the boat ramp on the jetty at the foot of Terrace street. The ramp, which was frequently used by residents and summer visitors, had been washed away in a March storm. Although no official action was recorded, the council accepted DeBlanc's offer of a portion of concrete for the ramp and agreed to construction of another ramp.

A complaint of poor maintenance on the Waveland sand beach was brought before the council by Terry Feeney, representing the Waveland Civic Association. Feeney reminded aldermen that county supervisors had accepted responsibility for maintenance when the federal government built the beaches some years ago, but the supervisors have not honored the commitment. Storm drains are badly clogged with sand, Feeney charged, and most of the beach is littered with unsightly trash and weeds.

Alderman John Longo took issue to Feeney's accusations that Waveland aldermen had shirked their duty to confront supervisors on the beach maintenance. Longo cited several instances in which aldermen had met with supervisors on such matters, but countered with the remark, "We can't force the board to act, we can only ask."

Bourgeois both agreed that the beach had not been properly kept, but felt a better system would be to designate a piece of equipment and an operator for full time beach maintenance.

Waveland Civil Defense Director Bert Stieffell told the board that Superintendent of City Schools J. D. McCullough had requested an inspection of city schools as possible disaster shelters by the Mississippi Civil Defense Council.

Stieffell also reported the acquisition of a Civil Defense Emergency Network radio to be installed in the fire station communications room. The radio, he told aldermen, can be kept on a five-year loan basis at no charge for that time. If at the end of the five-year period the city wants to keep it, the cost will be $90. In a unanimous motion, the board authorized necessary expenditures for Stieffell to install the radio.

Donald McIntyre verbally tendered his resignation from the Waveland police department to assume duties as Civil Defense director for Hancock County, effective July 1. McIntyre was commended by the council for his four year tenure with the city and was asked to retain status on the auxiliary police force, to which he agreed. Stieffell assured McIntyre of full cooperation and support from the Waveland Civil Defense unit.

Charges Dismissed Against Teacher

Charges of child beating were dismissed against Gulfview teacher Henry Wither in a Wednesday morning hearing in Hancock County Juvenile Court.

Wither was accused by Mr. and Mrs. Willie Santiago, Sr., Bayside Park residents, of severely beating their 12-year-old son in a March 15 incident at the school. The youth's parents signed an affidavit of complaint against Wither with Justice of the Peace Lee Klein on the same date.

The case was later referred to the Hancock County Youth Court for action under the Child Battery Act. In the Wednesday hearing, Bay City Judge Joseph Benvenuti acted as special prosecutor by designation of Youth Court Referee Michael Haas.

The case against Wither was dismissed on the grounds that the complainants, Mr. and Mrs. Santiago, failed to appear in court and evidence presented did not indicate that serious physical injury was inflicted on the child, as required under the law.

Carver Wins

Incumbent Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Carver was reelected Tuesday after easily defeating his Republican opponent William Frisbie by 1287 to 474.

"I am thankful over the outcome of the election and am looking forward to a harmonious administration for the next four years," Carver told the Echo Wednesday.

Frisbie, who has served as Bay St. Louis commissioner post office, said, "It has been a privilege for me to serve on the council. I wish every success to the new commission council and thank everyone who supported me in the general election."

Carver will be joined on the council by Post Office Commissioner Lucien Kidd, who was unopposed in the general election, and Charles Linder, who was elected post office commissioner. Linder got 1287 in the election to defeat independent candidate Buford Parker who totaled only 286 votes.

Supervisors Appoint Civil Defense Director

Donald McIntyre, Waveland policeman and assistant director of Waveland Civil Defense, has been appointed Hancock County Civil Defense director, replacing Lucien Kidd who was elected Bay St. Louis city commissioner.

McIntyre's appointment is effective July 1, 1973 but must be approved by the Mississippi Civil Defense Council.

Kidd's replacement was named at Tuesday's meeting of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors on a motion by Beat Five Supervisor James Travira. When Travira's motion failed to receive a second, Board President Alton Kellar, stepped down temporarily as chairman and seconded the motion. The final vote was unanimous.

Kidd, who has been Civil Defense director since 1968, will take over as Bay St. Louis Post One Commissioner July 2.

In other business, the board agreed to ask for bids to construct a Hancock County promotional billboard on property in Louisiana near the Mississippi line.

Beat Four Supervisor H.G. Zengarling told the board that he had received permission to use a portion of land adjacent to interstate 10 west of the west Pearl River in Louisiana at a cost of $85 per year. The board agreed that the sign would advertise the Gulf Coast and urge drivers to exit at Highway 697 in Hancock County.

FISHING LICENSE

Patrick Toomey, Mississippi Game and Fish Commission warden, has issued a reminder that anyone fishing from a bank or boat in protected waters must have a fishing license. Toomey said that the sign covers all areas except the Bay of St. Louis and Mississippi Sound.

Masonite Corporation of Laurel was awarded a contract to harvest pine saw timber and pulpwood in sixteen section land. Masonite was high bidder with $41,000. Other bids received include Homochitto Lumber Company of Piquette, $33,076; International Paper Co., Perkinston, $33,500; Gulfport Crosscutting Co., Gulfport, $38,750; and Interpine of Piquette, $40,029.

The following five-year oil leases were also awarded: Union Oil and Gas Division, Houston, Texas, Section 16, Township Six South, Range 14 West, $13,440; Union Oil, Section 16, Township Five South, Range 14 West, $16,640;

Alex W. McCoy Associates, Inc., Section 16, Township Seven South, Range 14 West; Section 16 Township Six South, Range 15 West; Section 24, Township Six South, Range 16 West; Section 22, Township Five South, Range 15 West; and Section 26, Township Five South, Range 15 West, total, $38,461.

The board also accepted the low bid of Stribling-Puckett, Inc., of Gulfport on a combination bulldozer-front end loader for $28,500 (with trade-in). Agreed to purchase two pickup trucks from low bidder Charlie Henderson Ford, Inc. for $2834.52 each.

Supervisors recessed until 9 a.m. June 11.

Board Authorizes School Repairs

Hancock County School Board President Horace Davis left the chair at a Tuesday meeting to second a motion authorizing additional repairs to Hancock North Central School rest rooms.

The matter has been under discussion for several meetings and reached an impasse Tuesday when Davis called for board action. Waveland contractor Mel Villere was contracted some weeks ago to make emergency repairs to two rest rooms in the school gymnasium following a tornadic wind storm which severely damaged the roof and several sections of the school.

In a recent progress report Villere told the board that the condition of the walls and most of the plumbing in the rooms necessitated more extensive repairs than he had at first estimated. He submitted alternate bids on installing ceramic tile in the two rooms to a height of six feet as well as repair and/or replacement of plumbing fixtures. Villere set the cost estimate for the additional work at about $16,000 per room, or a total of slightly more than $32,000 for the whole job.

At Tuesday's meeting, school trustees were divided on whether to issue a change order to Villere to complete the job on an emergency basis, or to advertise for bids for the work.

A deadlock resulted when Davis and Eric Larson were in favor of issuing the change order to Villere. Tommy Shaw concurred with John Bank's wish to advertise for bids and Lamar Lee abstained from voting. Receiving no second to Larson's motion to issue the change order, Davis turned the meeting over to Board Vice-President Shaw and seconded Larson's motion.

In an unrelated action, Joseph W. Gex was appointed board attorney by unanimous motion, replacing the firm of Favre and Griffin.

County Board of Supervisors President Alex W. Kellar appeared before school trustees with oil lease bids for 18-section lands and lieu lands. Separate bids for certain lands advertised were received only from the Alex W. McCoy Co. of Gulfport, representing Union Oil Co. Kellar stated, amounting to some $84,461.

Kellar acknowledged the board for a lack of set policy on fees for the various parcels of school lands which brings the two boards in for a good bit of adverse criticism, he pointed out.

"I wish you all would get together and set a policy for all these lieu lands," Kellar said. "Because you're putting the board between a rock and a hard place when we have to consider bids." The school trustees agreed to take the matter under consideration.

Assistant Superintendent E.E. Braland asked the board to approve a summer employment program, with 80 percent funding from the state, in order to hire two high school students to work at County schools. The Campus Work Study Program is in lieu of the Neighborhood Youth Corps program which formerly provided summer employment for area high school students, Braland explained.

In a single motion, the board unanimously approved the program as well as two students recommended by Braland.

Braland also informed the board that June 30 was the deadline for non-professional employees to make a decision on joining the state retirement program. The program was mandatory for all persons employed after June 30, 1972, he stated, and school department employees should be made aware of that fact. The matter was held in abeyance until the next meeting, as a few positions remain to be filled. The meeting was recessed until June 19, 6:30 p.m.

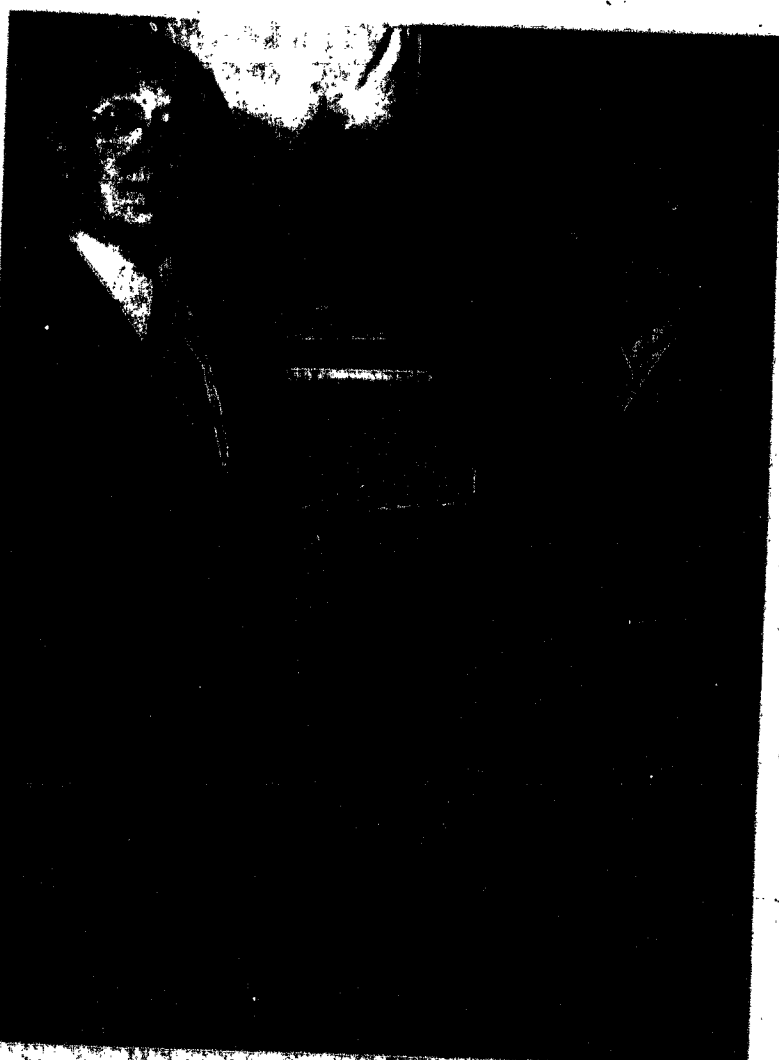

Juvenile Sent To Oakley School

Edward Jones, a 17-year-old Waveland youth, has been adjudicated for the second time a delinquent child by Hancock County Juvenile authorities and following a Youth Court hearing, has been committed to Oakley Training School in Raymond, Miss.

The Jones youth lives in Waveland with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Barnes.

Would You Buy A Used Car From Nixon's?

Some television advertisements make us positively ill.

Take the one where the former pro-football player tells you "some good news about weeseeders!"

Or how about the food store manager who has a fetish for squeezing tissue?

And then there's those two lovable cowboy-folk heroes making it through life with just horses and a six-pack.

Tacky. But the other night we heard something that has to represent the zenith of bad taste (if that makes any sense).

It seems as though an automobile agency is using the name of one of our U.S. Presidents and is calling itself - are you ready? - Abraham Lincoln-Mercury.

Unh.

Now, we're certainly not squeamish. Nor are we real flag-wavers.

But it's got to stop somewhere.

Up to now, names of Presidents have been used for counties, cities, banks and the like. That's fine.

But imagine what will happen if Madison Ave. hits on the idea of using our former leaders' names for marketable items and services.

Here are a few possibilities:

GEORGE WASHINGTON CHERRY PIES - pies made from old-fashioned cherries, just like George's father used to grow.

MILLARD FILLMORE OIL CO. - you get more miles to the gallon with Fillmore gas. Fill'er up with Fillmore!

MARTIN VAN BUREN SPORT SHIRTS - a man is a man in a Van Buren (we're the other one).

THEODORE ROOSEVELT RIDING ACADEMY - does your child want to learn to ride a horse? Send him to the Roosevelt Riding Academy...after only two weeks he'll be known as one of the "Rough Riders".

CALVIN COOLIDGE AIR CONDITIONING - on hot summer days, relax in your den with a Coolidge central air unit. Keep cool with Coolidge.

ULYSSES S. GRANT COLLECTION AGENCY - Businessmen. Have trouble collecting overdue bills from your customers? Let Grant Collection Agency handle those bad debts. We'll get your money like Grant took Vicksburg.

ZACHARY TAYLOR CLOTHING STORE - for those who want to look their best at all times, come to Taylor's Clothing Store - all our clothes are Taylor-ed to fit.

Unfortunately it will probably be just a matter of time before merchants and businessmen begin capitalizing on our presidents' names.

In fact, it's already started.

Haven't you heard about the Herbert Hoover?

THE SOUNDS OF MUSIC from more than 50 young voices will fill Christ Episcopal Church in Bay St. Louis Monday evening when the St. Clement's Youth Choir will sing a Folk Mass at 7 p.m. at the church. All members of the El Paso, Tex. church, the group now numbers 75 and is on its sixth tour, having traveled more than 12,000 miles throughout the South and West. Their music varies from folk-rock to traditional ecclesiastic, with selections by Bob Dylan, Pete Seeger, the Beatles, Arlo Guthrie and The Hymnal for Young Christians. The group is under the direction of John Fraser, St. Clement's choirmaster, and the Rev. J. Michael Klickman. The Monday evening performance is open to the general public, according to Fr. Charles Johnson, rector.

Bay Theatre Presents Drama

Final choice for the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre's current season was "I Never Sang For My Father", produced by Mrs. Pete Chapman and presented May 24, 25, and 26. Highly charged with emotion, the drama told a tense story of intra-family relationships and was more a series of psychological studies than a narrative of events. Director Burt Barrett, who has often demonstrated a special ability to direct plays of this sort (Remember "The Miracle Worker" and "The Diary of Anne Frank"?), was in his element and extracted from his actors every drop of tenderness, anger, and pathos provided by the script. That the play was utterly absorbing was evident each night by complete silence in the audience during the second and third acts as everyone paid absolute attention to the words, expressions, and gestures of the actors.

Robert Anderson's touching drama concerns the problems of aging, not only for elderly people themselves but for the younger members of their families. By its very subject matter it involves everyone who watches the story unfold and is probably the most thought-provoking show ever produced by the local theatre. Although comedy buffs were frank to say they disliked the subject, most theatre-goers were pleased to see a serious show for a change and all were impressed with the quality of the performance.

The four principal characters were Pete Chapman as a son who had always wanted to love his father but had never quite succeeded; Joe Barbo, his father, whose personality had been warped by a disastrous relationship with his own mother; Dixie Ogden, his mother, whom he loved deeply, and whose death prompted him to attempt once more to draw near to his father; and Nancy Gax, his sister, whom life had taught to be hard and practical. Minor roles were portrayed by Cal Smith doubling as a porter and as a minister; Rebecca Aguzzi as a waitress; Joseph Servat as a doctor; Teddy Stechmann as an undertaker; and Nannette Stroh as a nurse.

The play was performed with a minimum of scenery and props, with changes of scene accomplished swiftly on a darkened stage by a well-trained crew. Technical direction was done by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maloney.

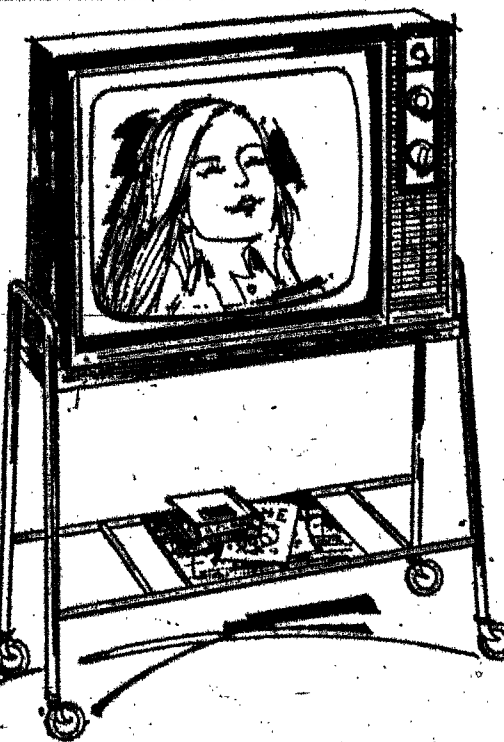

Adding to the enjoyment of the evening was a lobby display featuring wood carvings by William B. Schriver of Bay St. Louis and paintings by Margaret and Pete de Loo of New Orleans and Waveland. Next Little Theatre event will be the annual Louie Awards dinner, scheduled for June 21 at Diamondhead Country Club. Tickets will go on sale June 4 to theatre members, on a first come, first served basis, and any unsold ones will be available on the same basis to the general public beginning June 11. The tickets will be available at de Montuzin Drug Store in Bay St. Louis and at Jean's Gift Gallery in Waveland.

Merrymakers Host First Annual Ball

On May 18, the Merrymakers' Social and Pleasure Club hosted its first annual ball at the One Hundred Men's Hall in Bay St. Louis. The hall was decorated in the ball's theme, "Love and Happiness". The club members greeted their guests in evening wear with corsages of carnations displaying the club colors of red and white presented to them by the club. Music for the occasion was furnished by "The Spectators" of New Orleans, Louisiana.

The Merrymakers was established in February 1972. A paper was prepared and read by Mrs. Alvina Nichols which described the activities of the previous year. Among these activities, card games, dances and raffles were held to raise money for a carnival parade. The club also collected donations from organizations to help reach this goal. Everyone was thanked and reminded that the club will be seeking donations again this year and hope to do bigger and better things for the community this coming year. Members were then introduced to the guests.

Previous president was Mrs. Selma Skims. Officers for this year are President-Catherine Isbom; Vice president, open; Secretary, Iris Wilkerson; Financial Secretary, Alton Benoit; Treasurer, Clara Fair-connote; and Commissary, Mr. Oswald Talbert.

Party Given

Mrs. Nunez Pilet entertained Thursday in her home at a "Hi and Bye" party honoring her guests Mrs. George Estes, a former resident of Canada, now living in Gulfport, Mrs. Norvin P. Oliver and her sister, Miss Ruby Rose of Pass Christian, who will relocate in Ocean Springs.

With ecology as the theme, a number of gifts made from reclaimed items were presented with Mrs. Donna Baird acting as emcee; among the gifts were an earthenware decoupaged marmalade jar to which Mrs. Baird applied heirloom lace turning it into a desk ornament; tea towels, made from a linen damask table cloth personalized with embroidered names, an array of dust mits, windshield wipe cloths, pin-cushions and sewing kits.

Guests competed in a salad making contest with prizes of sand bottles donated by Mrs. Elmo Nolan going to those whose salads rated highest in eye-appeal, texture, color combination and harmony in taste. In preparation for the contest the banquet table was overlaid with an Army-Navy cloth centered with an arrangement of multi-colored day lilies made by Mrs. I. F. Bennett.

First place winners were Mrs. A. N. Morphy, Long Beach, and Mrs. Estes. Consolation prizes were awarded Miss Mildred Payment of Arcadia Bayou, Mesdames Harrington Hiltz, Donna Baird, Ruby Rose and Norvin Oliver, all of Pass Christian, as well as Mrs. Robert Bird, Long Beach and Mrs. Jesse Coward of Bay St. Louis.

30 seconds isn't enough.

At a time when people are demanding more informative advertising, television commercials are getting shorter.

The trend is to 30 second spots. Or time for about 50 words.

That's not enough to tell everything consumers want to know these days. Prices, colors, guarantees, where to find it, what it's made of, and so much more.

Instead, advertise where you can tell a complete story without being a "fast talker."

In newspapers you can give the full details—in 30 seconds the average reader can absorb 250 words, or 5 times as much information as from TV.

And newspapers let a consumer pause to evaluate, re-read, and even clip your ad as a reminder.

Newspapers have always been the hardest working advertising medium.

And we think their future looks better than ever.

THE BOOKNORM

BY: ETHEL E. EVANS Publicity Chairman
Friends of the City-County Library

Many years ago, there lived here on the Coast a lady named Miss Ruth Knowles. A teacher at a local school by vocation, she enjoyed the avocation of book collecting. She was most selective, collecting books on such topics as art, poetry, drama, religion, history, literature, linguistics, to mention a few. Her personal library soon became a priceless collection of rare and unusual books.

Then the time came when Miss Knowles decided she must leave the Coast and live in Georgia. But before she left she donated 10,000 (ten thousand--I'll spell that out in case you think the printer added a few too many zeros!) of her marvelous collection of books to the Bay St. Louis Memorial Library--now known as the City-County Public Library. Actually, her books were the nucleus around which the present library collections are built. This was, of course, the most wonderful thing that could happen to any library, anywhere, as it increased its ability to better serve the community by providing books on subjects heretofore not available.

Now Miss Knowles has done it again!

Mrs. Alice Prindville, Library coordinator tells it like this: "One day about four months ago we received a letter from Miss Knowles, offering us the balance of her collection (approximately 2,000 volumes) and some shelving if we would pay the freight to get it here. Needless to say we were jubilant, and promptly accepted her generous offer." The books were delivered several months later in about 35 very large packing cartons. The library staff has spent many hours since then finding shelf space, arranging and rearranging area after area to make room for our new treasures."

The Knowles collection is now being cataloged and many volumes are checked in for circulation, with selections for practically everyone. If it's art you're interested in, you're sure to enjoy the complete works of Michelangelo, a tremendous volume almost too heavy to lift; a series of twelve books, "Drawings of the Masters" of English and foreign artists is a beautiful compilation; the books on poetry include many of the modern poets; the books on linguistics will appeal to anyone interested in the elementary study of Russian, French, German or Latin, with several dictionaries available in this category; the history books cover Modern European and World History; of great help to students of English will be the volumes on literature, as they include literary criticisms of both American and English authors; a splendid concordance to the Bible is a great addition to the library reference books, and an outstanding volume, "In Our Image", biographies of the prophets (already in circulation) is among several of the books covering the subject of religion.

The new Knowles collection also includes a varied selection of fiction titles. So do come--browse or borrow. We have a new look. The City-County Library bids you welcome!

Take A Look At Our Beach!

Summer is here and once again visitors are looking for a place to picnic, sunbathe and swim.

Chances are that tourists will take one look at the beach in Hancock County and decide that perhaps the beach in Harrison isn't really THAT crowded.

These photos were taken Monday afternoon and are proof that the beach is dirty -- covered with debris, beer cans, paper and in some places, almost completely covered with grass.

The sections shown in the photographs are in Beats One, Two and Four from Washington St. south to Gulfside Assembly. It is the duty of Hancock County Supervisors to maintain the beach.

Obviously they are not.

You don't have to look far to find enough firewood for a small bonfire.

If you enjoy a lot of grass with your sand, Hancock County is the place to go.

Remnants of past picnics and outings can be seen all along the beach.

County Agent's Notes

The traditional June Dairy Month celebration provides an excellent opportunity to analyze the industry in an effort to determine trends. The dairy industry has long been recognized as a vital segment of the economy of Mississippi. Through the years, dairy marketing in Mississippi has become increasingly important. The marketing of milk has evolved from a simple producer-consumer relationship into a highly diversified system.

Total milk produced in the state has been declining. In 1972, total production amounted to 983 million pounds. However, production per cow has steadily increased to 6,388 pounds per cow -- an all time high for the state. During the same period, the number of milk cows on farms dropped to an all time low of 154,000 head.

Grade A production, however, has followed a reversal trend and amounted to about 93 percent of the total production. The average return from the combined marketings of milk and cream averaged $8.77 per hundred weight. Grade A producers have, however, drastically declined in the past few years and as of January 1, 1973, there was a total of 1,474. However, those remaining in the dairy industry have increased in herd size and also in the production per cow. While statistics on Grade A production per cow are not available, there are some indications of this trend. The 300 herds on production testing reached an all time high of 10,404 pounds of milk per cow in 1971. Grade A or fluid milk processing plants are also on the decline. The present number of 19 represents a tremendous drop during the past decade.

Packaged milk sales in the Mississippi Federal Order Area are on the increase. From 1971 to 1972, sales increased almost 5.5 percent. Aggressive sale promotion programs have been one factor that influenced the upward demand.

Manufacturing milk producers and manufacturing milk plants have also declined. During 1972, there was an average of about 1,500 manufacturing milk producers.

Despite the decrease in total milk production and "down-hill" trends, the future of the dairy industry need not appear bleak. Through the use of increased record keeping, data analysis and other managerial principles, dairymen is becoming more of a business. A dairy farmer must, if he is to be successful, be a well diversified person. In addition to business principles, he must know something about management, legal matters, finances, mechanical operations and many other subjects. To be sure, the dairymen of the future will have to wear many hats.

Report from capitol

WASHINGTON, D. C. - A resolution by Senator John C. Stennis that would authorize a review of flood control projects on the Mississippi and Yazoo Rivers was submitted to the Senate Public Works Committee Tuesday (5-29).

Committee approval of the Stennis Resolution is necessary before the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers can reassess flood protection needs using fresh data gathered in this year's extensive flooding of the region.

Senator Stennis urged the Senate Public Works Committee to authorize a complete review of all projects currently planned in the two river basins and requested recommendations for new projects currently planned in the two river basins and requested recommendations for new projects "to protect the people of this entire area from future catastrophic floods."

"About $300-million worth of flood control projects have been authorized in the Yazoo Basin over the last 35 years," Senator Stennis said. "Only about half of this work has been accomplished."

"The work schedule must be stepped up and modifications and additions to the currently authorized projects are necessary."

"A determination must be made on what new projects are needed in order to provide maximum flood protection, based on what we have learned from this latest flood."

"Congress should give a higher

priority to flood control projects and appropriate sufficient funds to complete these projects at the earliest possible date."

Flooding in the Mississippi Delta area has been so extensive this year that much of the land will not dry out in time to plant crops.

Forestry Report

My pine trees have "orange stuff" on them.

This is a common complaint among homeowners at this time of the year. The powdery "orange stuff" is millions of spores produced by the fungus, Cronartium fusiforme. This fungus lives as a parasite on the bark of loblolly or slash pines and causes the disease called fusiform rust. This is among the most serious diseases of Southern pines.

Fusiform rust kills great numbers of pine seedlings and weakens the trunks of larger pine trees. When it strikes it stunts, and kills, or weakens trees and makes them susceptible to other destructive agents. Each year it destroys approximately 100 million cubic feet of timber.

The fungus lives from year to year in the living bark of pine branches and stems, causing spindle shaped swellings or galls. Sometimes old galls die on one side, forming flat or depressed cankers which occasionally exude large amounts of gum or resin. The gum flow may be caused by secondary infection of the galls by the pitch canker fungus, Fusarium latitron F. pin. Insects also breed in fusiform rust cankers and cause excessive gum-flow. The cankers weaken the trunks and branches, and these break easily in high winds.

In March and early April, the powdery yellow-orange spores are produced on living cankers. The wind carries these spores to young oak leaves, which they infect. Soon millions of another type of spore are formed on the under side of the oak leaves. These spores are, in turn, carried by wind currents back to infect young pine needles or green growing shoots. This cycle of infection takes place in just a few weeks in the Spring. It is not hard to see galls on pines, and cankers are equally easy to find. Unfortunately, there is usually very little that can be done about fusiform rust once it has become entrenched in the main stem of pine trees.

Galls on branches should, however, be pruned before the fungus spreads to the trunk. Meanwhile, forest pathologists are working hard to find a successful treatment for this destructive "orange stuff" disease which many Mississippians are noticing on their pine trees.

Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service has sent out Surveys to a selection of Mississippi Farmers including farmers in Hancock County.

If any farmers in Hancock County get this survey, I would like to encourage you to fill it out and send it in as soon as possible.

Ray B. Converse, Statistician in Charge of the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, said the survey will be conducted to gather information concerning the acreage of crops to be harvested in 1973. Approximately 20,000 Mississippi farmers will be asked to complete these questionnaires. Mr. Converse also stated that all states will conduct this survey. Since crop production accounts for nearly 43 percent of the State's cash farm income, it is important that the results be as accurate as possible. Because of this, Ray stressed the need for farmers who receive the questionnaires to fill them out and return them promptly.

State statisticians use the findings from this survey and data supplied by other farmers from enumerative survey questionnaires to form county, state and national estimates. All information on individual farms is kept confidential.

A report on the survey will be published July 10th.

FLIES ON DAIRY COWS

A survey by the United States Department of Agriculture shows that heavy fly populations can cost up to $40 per cow in loss of milk during the next 90 days. You cannot afford this loss.

To control flies you can use sack dusts, backrubbers or dusts and sprays. For sack dusts, use only three percent Clostrin dust. On backrubbers, use Clostrin, Co-Ral or Borneol in oil. Read label restrictions.

On animals, you can use two tablespoons of three percent Clostrin dust every two weeks, three tablespoons of five percent Malathion dust every three weeks or one tablespoon of 50 percent Methoxychlor dust every three weeks. Do not apply any of these materials within five hours before milking.

You can spray lightly with one percent Clostrin or Cygon once a week.

Chamber Report

By Sylvia McComiskey
Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Manager

The Quarterly Membership Banquet of the Chamber of Commerce was enjoyed by all and we hope it proved informative as well.

The Outstanding Senior Awards Program of the Chamber is now complete and we wish to take this opportunity to salute these young people, chosen for this award by the faculty of their respective schools on a basis of fine character and respect of faculty and peers. The recipients of this award are: Myra Ann Stiefel - Bay Senior High School; Susan Ann Nockale - Hancock North Central School; William Beard Zimmerman, Jr. - St. Stanislaus College; and Madara B. Blount - Coast Episcopal High School. These students received a plaque and a $25 U. S. Savings Bond from the Chamber and our sincere best wishes for their future endeavors.

Perry Gibson, representing the Chamber, reports that the two-day visit to New Orleans and the off-shore oil rigs sponsored by The American Petroleum Institute Thursday and Friday of last week, was very enjoyable and quite informative. He will report to the Board of Directors at the monthly meeting.

Works by local artist, Wiley Churchill, featuring a series entitled "The Civil War Years" will be on display at W. A. McDonald Furniture Showroom, Main and Second Sts., Bay St. Louis June 9 thru 16 during regular business hours. Events of this nature do a great deal to lend cultural prestige to Hancock County and we urge anyone interested to attend.

Take A Look At Our Beach!

Summer is here and once again visitors are looking for a place to picnic, sunbathe and swim.

Chances are that tourists will take one look at the beach in Hancock County and decide that perhaps the beach in Harrison isn't really THAT crowded.

These photos were taken Monday afternoon and are proof that the beach is dirty - covered with debris, beer cans, paper and in some places, almost completely covered with grass.

The sections shown in the photographs are in Beats One, Two and Four from Washington St. south to Gulfside Assembly. It is the duty of Hancock County Supervisors to maintain the beach. Obviously they are not.

You don't have to look far to find enough firewood for a small bonfire.

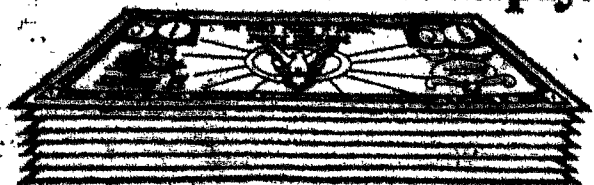

If you enjoy a lot of grass with your sand, Hancock County is the place to go.

Remnants of past picnics and outings can be seen all along the beach.

The traditional June Dairy Month celebration provides an excellent opportunity to analyze the industry in an effort to determine trends. The dairy industry has long been recognized as a vital segment of the economy of Mississippi. Through the years, dairy marketing in Mississippi has become increasingly important. The marketing of milk has evolved from a simple producer-consumer relationship into a highly diversified system.

Total milk produced in the state has been declining. In 1972, total production amounted to 983 million pounds. However, production per cow has steadily increased to 6,383 pounds per cow - an all time high for the state. During the same period, the number of milk cows on farms dropped to an all time low of 154,000 head.

Grade A production, however, has followed a reversal trend and amounted to about 93 percent of the total production. The average return from the combined marketings of milk and cream averaged $6.77 per hundred weight. Grade A producers have, however, drastically declined in the past few years and as of January 1, 1973, there was a total of 1,474. However, those remaining in the dairy industry have increased in herd size and also in the production per cow. While statistics on Grade A production per cow are not available, there are some indications of this trend. The 300 herds on production testing reached an all time high of 10,404 pounds of milk per cow in 1971. Grade A or fluid milk processing plants are also on the decline. The present number of 19 represents a tremendous drop during the past decade.

Packaged milk sales in the Mississippi Federal Order Area are on the increase. From 1971 to 1972, sales increased almost 5.5 percent. Aggressive sale promotion programs have been one factor that influenced the upward demand.

Manufacturing milk producers and manufacturing milk plants have also declined. During 1972, there was an average of about 1,500 manufacturing milk producers.

Despite the decrease in total milk production and cow numbers, the future of the dairy industry need not appear bleak. Through the use of increased record keeping, data analysis and other managerial principles, dairymen are becoming more of a business. A dairy farmer must, if he is to be successful, be a well diversified person. In addition to business principles, he must know something about management, legal matters, finances, mechanical operations and many other subjects. To be sure, the dairymen of the future will have to wear many hats.

Report from capitol

WASHINGTON, D. C. - A resolution by Senator John C. Stennis that would authorize a review of flood control projects on the Mississippi and Yazoo Rivers was submitted to the Senate Public Works Committee Thursday (5-23).

Committee approval of the Stennis Resolution is necessary before the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers can reassess flood protection needs using fresh data gathered in this year's extensive flooding of the region.

Senator Stennis urged the Senate Public Works Committee to authorize a complete review of all projects currently planned in the two river basins and requested recommendations for new projects "to protect the people of this entire area from future catastrophic floods."

"About $300-million worth of flood control projects have been authorized in the Yazoo Basin over the last 35 years," Senator Stennis said. "Only about half of this work has been accomplished."

"The work schedule must be stepped up and modifications and additions to the currently authorized projects are necessary. A determination must be made on what new projects are needed in order to provide maximum flood protection, based on what we have learned from this latest flood."

"Congress should give a higher

priority to flood control projects and appropriate sufficient funds to complete these projects at the earliest possible date."

Flooding in the Mississippi Delta area has been so extensive this year that much of the land will not dry out in time to plant crops.

Forestry Report

My pine trees have "orange stuff" on them.

This is a common complaint among homeowners at this time of the year. The powdery "orange stuff" is millions of spores produced by the fungus, Cronartium fusiforme. This fungus lives as a parasite on the bark of loblolly or slash pines and causes the disease called fusiform rust. This is among the most serious diseases of Southern pines.

Fusiform rust kills great numbers of pine seedlings and weakens the trunks of larger pine trees. When it strikes it stunts and kills, or weakens trees and makes them susceptible to other destructive agents. Each year it destroys approximately 100 million cubic feet of timber.

The fungus lives from year to year in the living bark of pine branches and stems, causing spindle-shaped swellings or galls. Sometimes old galls die on one side, forming flat or depressed cankers which occasionally exude large amounts of gum or resin. The gum flow may be caused by secondary infection of the galls by the pitch canker fungus, Fusarium lateritium F. pin. Insects also breed in fusiform rust cankers and cause excessive gum-flow. The cankers weaken the trunks and branches, and these break easily in high winds.

In March and early April, the powdery yellow-orange spores are produced on living cankers. The wind carries these spores to young oak leaves, which they infect. Soon millions of another type of spore are formed on the under side of the oak leaves. These spores are, in turn, carried by wind currents back to infect young pine needles or green growing shoots. This cycle of infection takes place in just a few weeks in the Spring. It is not hard to see galls on pines, and cankers are equally easy to find. Unfortunately, there is usually very little that can be done about fusiform rust once it has become entrenched in the main stem of pine trees.

Galls on branches should, however, be pruned before the fungus spreads to the trunk. Meanwhile, forest pathologists are working hard to find a successful treatment for this destructive "orange stuff" disease which many Mississippians are noticing on their pines these days.

Chamber Report

By Sylvia McCombskey
Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Manager

The Quarterly Membership Banquet of the Chamber of Commerce was enjoyed by all and we hope it proved informative as well.

The Outstanding Senior Awards Program of the Chamber is now complete and we wish to take this opportunity to salute these young people, chosen for this award by the faculty of their respective schools on a basis of fine character and respect of faculty and peers. The recipients of this award are: Myra Ann Stieffel - Bay Senior High School; Susan Ann Necaise - Hancock North Central School; William Beard Zimmerman, Jr. - St. Stanislaus College; and Madona B. Blount - Coast Episcopal High School.

These students received a plaque and a $25 U. S. Savings Bond from the Chamber and our sincere best wishes for their future endeavors.

Perry Gibson, representing the Chamber, reports that the two-day visit to New Orleans and the off-shore oil rigs sponsored by the American Petroleum Institute Thursday and Friday of last week was very enjoyable and quite informative. He will report to the Board of Directors at the monthly meeting.

Works by local artist, Wiley Churchill, featuring a series entitled "The Civil War Years" will be on display at W. A. McDonald Furniture Showroom, Main and Second Sts., Bay St. Louis June 9 thru 16 during regular business hours. Events of this nature do a great deal to lend cultural prestige to Hancock County and we urge anyone interested to attend.

MR. AND MRS. STEPHEN RENO

Miss Karl Weds Stephen Reno

Miss Katherine Edna Karl became the bride of Stephen Reno, son of Colonel and Mrs. Harvey W. Reno of Izmir, Turkey, Sunday afternoon in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with Rev. Daniel Gallagher, associate pastor, performing the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. John McKenna, organist, played a selection of nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Frank Taconi, wore a formal gown fashioned of lace and chiffon. The lace bodice featured a high neckline edged with a ruffle and long sleeves. Beaded lace trimmed the three-tiered full skirt. Her veil of illusion was attached to a beaded lace headpiece and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Miss Suzanne Favre attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Annette Lombard, Shirley Provost, niece of the bride, and Bobbie Goodsell. They wore formal gowns of dotted nylon in pastel shades of orchid, green, yellow and blue. Their headpieces were matching pill boxes with short veils. They carried bouquets of white carnations interspersed with ribbons in shades matching their dresses.

Paul Reno served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Matt Karl, brother of the bride, Walter Ladner, cousin of the bride, and James Roper. Pat Bourgeois and Walter Brizard served as ushers.

Miss Patricia Bourgeois, cousin of the bride, and Miss Sandra Provost, a niece, distributed rice bags in pastel colors to the guests.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Parish Hall.

Mrs. Pat Bourgeois, cousin of the bride, presided at the cake table and Mrs. Fred Cabell and Mrs. Henry Monti were at the punch table.

For traveling the bride chose a red suit with white accessories and the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Florida they will make their home in Le Junta, Colo., where the groom is stationed with the U.S. Air Force.

Among out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stolz, Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Armsby, Mr. and Mrs. Presley Bobo, Mrs. Charles Cassisi and children, Mrs. Eunice Fallo, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Calhoun, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cooley, Billy and Mike Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Cooley and daughter Kelli, all of Metairie, La., Mr. and Mrs. Forest Saucier, Mrs. Adele Litz, Hattiesburg, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Leggett and daughter, Seminary, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. David Light and daughter Norma, Mrs. Jerry Bundi and son, Mrs. William Whitt, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. William Whitt Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Ladner, New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stieffel and family, Harahan, La., and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gallway and daughter, Pearl River, La.

The bride was attended by Miss Connie Lirette and Mrs. Eric Livers.

Steve Wallace was best man and Eric Livers, brother of the groom, was groomsmen. Kenneth Payard and Richard Warman served as ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Parish Hall. The mother of the bride received their guests wearing a beige lace dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The mother of the groom chose a blue nylon dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride's table, overlaid with a white linen cloth, was centered with a three-tiered square cake trimmed with spun sugar daisies. The top tier held an arrangement of flowers matching the bride's bouquet. Silver candelabra trimmed with greenery and similar flowers were on either side.

The couple will make their home in Columbus, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Capdepon and Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Bassett attended a church social at Our Lady of Victories Catholic Church, Baccagoulis, Sunday when Justin Wilson, a Cajun humorist, presented an evening of entertainment.

Carver Wins Trip To Bell Lab

Bay St. Louis High School Senior, Michael J. Carver, was this year's winner in the Mississippi Science Fair with his theory and exhibit "Audio Ultrasonic Modulation" which won Michael and his teacher, Thomas E. Johnson, a trip to the Bell Telephone Laboratories in Murray Hill, New Jersey. Michael and Mr. Johnson flew to New York and spent June 4 and 5 as guests of Bell Labs and tour the facility along with other winners from throughout the nation.

Michael also won a trip to West Point Military Academy for the Science and Humanities Symposium and was the recipient of the Navy award this year.

Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. Carver of Bay

St. Louis and Mr. Johnson is chairman of the Science Department and teaches chemistry and physics at Bay Senior High School.

The student-teacher visit to Bell Laboratories is awarded by South Central Bell each year to outstanding students and teachers in the field of science.

Bell Laboratories said the purpose of the High School Science Visit Program is "to emphasize the Bell System goal of continuously providing improved communications services, our programs are designed to illustrate the responsibility of Bell Laboratories toward this end. While it is impossible in a single visit to encompass the very broad spectrum of activities at Bell Laboratories, by definitive talks on Research and Development plus a series of visits to representative laboratories in each area, we introduce each visitor to the innovative explorations that ensure the most advanced technology for the Bell System."

Buzzy Heaster sailed to a second place in the Sears Quarter-Finals to qualify for the Semi-Finals of the National Junior Sailing Championship. The six-race Round Robin series was sailed in Flying Scots at Pontchartrain Yacht Club in Mandeville, La., June 2 and 3. Heaster and his crew Chris Stiefel and Buddy Eagan earned finishes of 2,2,1,1,4, and 5 in the stiff winds and rough seas of Lake Pontchartrain. Bob Whitehurst of Pensacola Yacht Club with his two brothers Tom and Billy, crewing won the series with two first place finishes and four seconds.

The Pontchartrain Yacht Club members were excellent hosts, serving lunch to the guests and a spaghetti dinner to the tired sailors at the end of the four races Saturday. Unfortunately, their local team met with disaster twice. Their original skipper for the series, Ed Reardon, had to withdraw because of an injured foot. His brother, Greg, substituted for him at the helm, but at the end of the fifth race, one of Reardon's crew was hurt during rotation of boats and was taken to the hospital. The local team was unable to enter the last race.

The final point standings for the Sears Quarter-Finals were:
Pensacola Yacht Club - Bob Whitehurst 32½;
Bay-Waveland Yacht Club - Buzzy Heaster 27½;
Southern Yacht Club - Chris Christman 19½;
Ft. Walton Yacht Club - Terry Wright 18;
St. Andrew's Bay Yacht Club - John Williams 16;
Pontchartrain Yacht Club - Greg Reardon 11.

Association and Central States Sailing Association. The winner will go to Corinthian Yacht Club in Seattle, Washington, to sail the finale in a San Juan 21.

Bay Waveland's Annual Island Cruise got under way early Saturday morning with 12 boats converging on Smugglers Cove at Cat Island at various times of the day. The sun shone and the breeze held steady all weekend.

Favorable sailing conditions permitted an early arrival, allowing ample time for swimming and exploring the island and its interesting wildlife before preparing for the Saturday evening barbecue.

After dinner many gathered around a large bonfire singing to the accompaniment of John Dupasquier and Walter Chamberlain playing the "Tanjo".

Sunday morning breakfast was an interesting experience for those who cooked on the beach which was rapidly disappearing under the rising tide.

Making the cruise this year were Neetsey and Bill Lamb, Nancy and Lucien Gex, June and Paul White, Jean and Dick Reeves, Pat and Glen Sherman, Vinette and Orway Kastler, Mary Alice and Tom Donahue, Gordon Stone, Larry Des Sommes, Connie and Chester Curry, Beth and John Dupasquier, Weezy and Basil Kennedy, Malin and Walter Chamberlain, Anne and Harry Chapman, Ann and Ray Stiefel, and Nancy and Howard Adams with an entourage of eleven other young people.

June 9 and 10 is the weekend of the Chapman Regatta at Gulfport Yacht Club. The 16 Bay-Waveland skippers have been scheduled and are lining up their crews for this big event. Registration begins at 9:30 a.m. Saturday. The start of the first race will be at 1:00 p.m.

From June 11 to June 22, Marc and the team will represent the USA in meets with the English schools of Bloxham, near Oxford, Gresham in Norfolk, and Dover, on the English Channel. The team will then fly to the Isle of Man, where they will sail competitively against King William's College in a three-day regatta. Following that, the American Sports Ambassadors will continue on to Dublin, Ireland, where they will compete against the local Irish sailing groups on Dublin Bay.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L. K. (Ray) Baker

Nothing was wrong with the weather over the week as far as fishing went. What was wrong with fresh water fishing was that there was a high tide again in the afternoons. Salt water fishing in general was good. Understand that speckle trout were caught at 1st Key, near Cat Island. Some croakers and red fish were gotten in several places. Of course at Chandler Islands and points near by big speckles and reds were caught.

As for fresh water fish Bayou Coward is clear but fishing for perch and bass in this stream wasn't too hot over the weekend.

Pearl River has receded and is down to normal again but it will still take a little time for the water to clear. Was told that some nice perch were caught in the Logtown area and in Old River, Bull Frog Bayou and at the head of Bogue Horna where the water is getting good.

Good to report that some salt crabs were caught over (Continued on page 7)

The weekend out front. Daddy Stockman and the son made a pretty good catch of them plus a few flounders. Soft crabbing should improve from now on. Hard crabs are being gotten in traps and nets along the seawall at both ends.

Manholes of 14.5' diameter 27' red fish, 11.5' diameter back of 3' mule Bayou cut in the I.A. March. Marvin said they caught the fish in the morning. When the water was low, the crabs were in the traps. Marvin said they were in the traps. Marvin said they were in the traps.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK
Anthony (Tony) Morreal doesn't claim to be much of a fisherman but says he enjoys all kind of sports. He is happy at whatever he is doing.

The water in Jourdan River and Rotten Bayou is good. Bayou LaCroix and tributaries is gradually clearing. There should be some good fishing in this area soon.

M.F. Cass made a week-end trip down from Hattiesburg. Went bass fishing and frogging without much success. Water was too high, we guess.

Shrimpers in Louisiana say that hauls are "Way Off." The Shrimp season in La. opened last Friday. There is hope that the season will get better as it goes along, however.

It is with sorrow that I report the death last week of Laurent L. Kergosien. Laurent was one of our local sportsman. Sympathy is extended to the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blalock who live in Bartlesville, Oklahoma have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Griffin. He loves to fish, crab, etc. and was a former resident. Harry hopes to move back to the Miss. Coast soon, where he can enjoy his favorite sports.

Mrs. Leroy Spence has gotten from 80 to 100 mullets in a day. This is one of the most ardent mullet catchers of Hancock County. Mrs. Spence is the wife of Ernie Spence. They have named their home, "Mullet in the Pines."

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Griffin are two of our best soft shell crabbers. They live in Waveland and go on every occasion. They have been getting a few lately, they said.

Mrs. Wiltz Clark went hard crabbing and got her share of the claw creatures. She was visiting Capt. and Mrs. A. Clark. Mrs. Wiltz is a sister of Mr. Eddie Clark.
